THE GRANADA a new automobile from Ford Motor Company with classic styling and five-passenger seating comfort, goes on sale September 27 at Lawson Ford, Inc.

The Granada is about half a ton lighter and two feet shorter than most sandard-size cars. It is available in two-door and four-door models in two series, the basic Granada and the luxurious Granada Ghia.

The Granada is a new concept for an American car," said Dick Bland, Vice President and General Manager at Lawson Ford. "It is neither a small car nor a big car, but combines the best characteristics of both".

Standard equipment includes a 250-cubic-inch engine, three-speed manual transmission, manual front disc brakes, an all-new instrument panel, full carpeting and vinyl-covered reclining front bucket seats.

Two V 8 engines, the 302-2V and 351-2V, ar available. Automatic transmission is optional, but standard with the 351-2V V-8. Power assists are offered for steering, brakes, windows, driver seat and sunroof.

1975 GRANADA

Extreme care and attention to detail set the Granada apart from other U.S. cars in its weight class.

Quality construction and precision engineering are the unseen elements that make the Granada a wise transportation buy. The body is protected against rust by 13 pounds of zinc-rich primer and chip-resistant baked enamel. Ninety pounds of insulation go into the Granada, nearly matching the sound-deadener applied to the Thunderbird, which is about 1,600 pounds heavier.

HOW TO A VEGETABLE

A recent USDA survey of ... people's buying habits, ... shoppers were questioned ... preference for 26 ... vegetables. Can you ... agree that many vege... ... There is surprise you ... more than half the ... ones on the list aren't ... popular with most ...

Here are the most popular ... Tomatoes, white ... lettuce, and white ... round the list. More than ... 1,000 homemakers said ... these vegetables ... a week or more.

Right on the popularity ... green beans, corn, and ... peas. Next in line were ... cucumbers, carrots, ... and green peppers. ... than half the homemakers ... them at least twice a ...

There were these 12 vege... as well liked? Home... received the most votes ... ... families didn't get tired of ... The most universally ... vegetables in all age ... were white potatoes ... Tomatoes followed, ... higher but not of five adults ... percent of three youngsters ... teenagers.

Which vegetables weren't ... well liked? The 14 ... were served infrequently ... of all were asparagus, ... the hot-eyed peas, broccoli, brussel's sprouts, cauliflower, eggplant, lima beans, okra, radishes, spinish, squash, sweet potatoes, and turnips. "Dislike or taste" was the main reason for not serving these foods. "No experience with the vegetable" was frequently a reason for not serving black-eyed peas and okra. Reasons for not serving other vegetables were high cost, difficulty in preparation, and family quickly tiring of the food.

Are you surprised to find some of your favorite vegetables in the not-so-popular group? Are there some vegetables mentioned that you've never tasted? Try eating some of the unfamiliar foods. You may find that they soon will be added to your "most popular" list. Fresh vegetables purchased in season often taste very different from the frozen or canned product. Try a new fresh vegetable and decide for yourself about its popularity.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
spiced cantaloupe

Cooking Time: 1 hour
Yield: 6-8 pleasing servings

3 ripe, firm cantaloupes, about 1 pound each
1½ cups granulated sugar
8 cups water
3 cups sugar
2 cups white vinegar
2 pieces stick cinnamon
1 tablespoon allspice
1½ teaspoons whole cloves

Method:

1. Pare and seed cantaloupe. Cut into 1-inch cubes, or use a melon-ball cutter.
2. Dissolve alum in water in a heavy kettle.
3. Heat to boiling. Add cantaloupe, and cook for 15 minutes. Drain cantaloupe, and drain well.
4. Combine sugar, vinegar, and spices tied in a piece of cheesecloth in the same kettle. Heat to boiling. Add melon, and cook slowly until fruit is transparent, about 45 minutes. Remove cheese bag. Seal in hot sterilized jars.

Note: Serve Spiced Cantaloupe with cold cuts. Or spear with toothpicks for an unusual party hors d'oeuvre.

This is an ingredient useful in home pickling to give crispness to melons and other foods. It can be bought in a drugstore.

PORK PICKIN'S
Appomattox Pork Producers

On Thursday, September 19th the Piedmont Pork Producers will launch their first annual Market Hog and trade Show. The Show will be held at the Farmville Livestock Market. This is to be an all day event including an evening meal of barbecued pork.

Hogs for the show may be entered until Monday, September 16th, so if any producer has hogs between 190 and 240 lbs. he or she is urged to enter them. Catalogs may be obtained from any county extension office or call Earl T. Pickett at 248-6581 for any needed information.

Several new ideas for this area are incorporated into this show. One major aspect is the "Olympic style" judging using three judges scoring by 5 points as follows: 1st place, 6 points; 2nd place, 5 points; etc.

Judges have the say to confer on placement. One judge each will represent the viewpoint of the packer, breeder and commercial producer. There will be a fourth judge to tabulate the scores. There are 3 classes for the youth and six classes for adults. Three each for crossbred hogs and three for purebred hogs.

Cash premiums will be paid in each class down to sixth place. Cash prizes total $1520 and seven very beautiful trophies will be awarded also. The trophies are on display now at the local banks in Appomattox and Farmville.

Producers, youth and consumers of the area we invite you to join us on September 19th from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Farmville Livestock Mkt for a fine time and good food.

The Virginia Pork Queen will be present also at the Show and Virginia Hams will be raffled off periodically during the day.
